RED CROSS DRIVE OPENS NEXT MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 19

The 1945 Red Cross War Fund Drive, will begin in Hancock County next Monday, February 19th. The quota for Hancock County is $100,000.

Mrs. Roger Boh is chairman of the drive and will have an able corps of assistants.

We are certain that the people of the County will again respond to this worthy cause. Keeping in mind the welfare of our boys on the battlefields throughout the world, and the splendid work this great organization is doing for them. We know that the many calls that have been made upon the people recently for raising of funds, both for local and national purposes, but it must be said to the credit of our people that they are always ready and willing to give to a worthy cause.

They give without a murmur and with a smile. They have a feeling of pride in their city and county and strive to meet every quota assigned to them. This drive will be no different than any other. You will find young and old working in a common cause—to reach our goal.

That the quota will be met we have no doubts, but let us all join together and go over the top as early as possible.

Why not send your contribution in to Mrs. Boh right away and in doing so it will not be necessary for any of the workers to call on you.

Everyone knows at this time what their contribution will be, so send it in, and let's tell the folks away from here that we are definitely behind the Red Cross, the organization looking after the welfare of our boys.

Administration Officer Of Farm Security Visits

Bay St. Louis and Hancock County were visited last Thursday and Friday by Mr. Lewis J. Henderson of Little Rock, Arkansas, Regional Information Advisor of the Farm Security Administration. He came at the instance of Mr. H. B. Duckworth, Hancock County F. S. H. Administrator to help prepare information about dairying and farming in this area.

Mr. Henderson accompanied by several people of the county and city, visited many farms in every section of Hancock County and made pictures of many phases of farming and dairying in this area. He is using the information obtained to write an article on Hancock County, which will be a great advertisement about the various rural opportunities offered. He is fully capable of putting this information on paper, having owned and edited papers in Forest and Starkville.

He was born in Oktibbeha County, Mississippi and graduated from the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. Henderson's article and photos will appear in a future edition of the Sea Coast Echo.

He has had varied experiences operating milk plants in different parts of the South, and until coming to this city was manager of a similar plant in Monroe. It is felt by the board of directors of the local plant that an ideal choice was made.

Bombardment Group Cited

From Headquarters of the Twelfth Air Force in Italy comes word that the B-25 Mitchell bombardment group of which Corporal Carl G. Heitzman of 406 Hancock Street, Bay St. Louis, Miss., is assigned as a sheet metal worker, has been cited again by the War Department as a Distinguished Unit. This time for the sinking of the Italian cruiser Taranto in a Spezia harbor September 23.

Carried out without loss of aircraft and with no casualties despite a formidable concentration of anti-aircraft guns, the brilliant attack frustrated German attempts to move the Taranto into position to block the entrance of this vital harbor. The group was previously cited as a Distinguished Unit for outstanding close support missions flown in Tunisia and Sicily in favor of the British Eighth and American Fifth and Seventh armies.

Bay Hi Boxers Tie Saint Aloysius Team

On Thursday, February 8 the Bay High Boxing team met St. Aloysius from New Orleans. The final score was 4½ to 4½, although it failed to tell the story of several interesting fights. All boxers of both teams fought with a vengeance, drawing blood in several instances. Curtis Colson (Bay High) and Donald Marquar (Bay High) won their bouts by technical knockouts with Perry Quintin, of Bay High and his opponent fought a draw in one of the most exciting matches of the event. Both boys drew blood and toward the end had the spectators in an uproar.

According to Coach Scaffidi, there are 20 boys on the squad, many of whom show real promise.

There are several fights left on the schedule, some which are with Biloxi, Notre Dame, and Bogalusa.

At present Coach Scaffidi and Professor Ingram are trying to interest other nearby schools, who participate in boxing to hold a regional tournament. Each school would enter only its finest boxers, and if this program goes through many interesting fights can be seen.

BOXING FRIDAY NIGHT AT ST. STANISLAUS

St. Stanislaus entertains the Gulf Coast Military Academy boxing team here Friday night, February 16th. The bouts are scheduled to get under way at eight o'clock.

As far as is known at this time an excellent program of at least twelve fights have been arranged.

STANISLAUS BOXERS TROUNCE NOTRE DAME OF BILOXI HERE

Final Count Was 7-4

In their second appearance this season the St. Stanislaus Boxing team under the tutelage of Brother Reginald definitely trounced the Notre Dame aggregation from Biloxi, Miss., here last Friday, February 9th. This was the first athletic competition between the two schools as Notre Dame was established but a year ago. The final tabulation of the evening's fights found the Rockchaws out in front by a count of 7-4. The local team also won the only exhibition on the night's card.

The fights were among the best ever seen here according to many spectators. Both schools presented several capable pugilists whose exhibition of the many art proved highly entertaining.

The summary of the twelve bouts on the program is as follows:

120 lbs. (Exhibition)—Schofield of St. Stanislaus had little trouble outpointing Hebert from Notre Dame. The former had the advantage of nearly seven pounds in weight over his opponent.

76 lbs. Morrales sent the St. Stanislaus stock soaring as he proceeded to outjab Pickard from Biloxi. The Rockchaw boxers gave a classy exhibition of left jabs which had his opponent fairly groggy at the end of the fight.

84 lbs. Pisarich from Notre Dame took a decision from Lachaussee. The former was more aggressive; hence he was able to pile up a considerable margin in points to earn the victory.

97 lbs. Padgett from Notre Dame demonstrated too much ring experience in taking the measure of Staehle. The latter failed to use his greater height and reach to advantage.

99 lbs. Nelson from Notre Dame was too classy a boxer whose puzzling style seemed to baffle Bailey of the local team. The former was able to pile up a comfortable margin in points to earn the decision.

103 lbs. Kiefer came back strong in the third round to win this one. He had his opponent A. Picard of Notre Dame fairly groggy at the bell. This was the beginning of a series of five consecutive fights won by the Rockchaws.

108 lbs. "Beaver" Fayard of St. Stanislaus clearly outslug his opponent Germanus from Biloxi. He scored a knockdown in the first round but could not succeed in putting the Notre Dame boy away completely.

112 lbs. Curran of St. Stanislaus is fast developing into a first-rate boxer. In his bout with Frenz of Notre Dame he demonstrated excellent technique in outpointing the latter. He was easily the stronger at the end.

130 lbs. Ben Kleinpeter gave Graham of Notre Dame a first class trouncing throughout the three rounds of the fight. Ben scored one knockdown in the first round. His opponent maintained a strong defensive from beginning to end.

130 lbs. Fayard of Notre Dame scored a technical knockout over Douglas of St. Stanislaus in the first round. The latter was no match for the experienced Fayard whose vigorous punching was very much in evidence.

125 lbs. Daunis of St. Stanislaus won an easy victory over Galle of Notre Dame. A classy southpaw, Daunis scored at will with a terrific left. The wonder to the spectators was the ability of his opponent to absorb the punches and still keep his feet.

146 lbs. As a fitting climax to an evening of swell entertainment for boxing devotees, Donohoe of St. Stanislaus scored a clean knockout over his opponent Broussard from Biloxi. A terrific uppercut to the jaw in the second round resulted in a rendezvous with the "birdies" for Broussard. Donohoe possesses one of the most devastating rights ever seen hereabouts in recent years for his weight.

Mrs. Eunice Eley, Visits Bay St. Louis

Mrs. Eunice Eley, State secretary of the Mississippi Library Commission, visited the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on Tuesday and was very well pleased with the progress it is making and the number of books that are classed as Best Sellers found on its shelves.

Mrs. Eley called on the Chancery Clerk A. G. Favre relative to the passing of the bill for state aid for libraries which came before the legislature last year but failed to pass. Mrs. Eley wants to line up forces for the coming session of the legislature and get the bill through. She feels that a library that has attained the standing this library has on the limited funds it has should get state aid.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Edwina Favre, Held Thursday Morning

Funeral services were held on Thursday morning for Mrs. Edwina Favre, wife of Alcide Favre, of the Biloxi community, who died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Lester Tanquiss on the Main Street Road.

Mrs. Favre was a native of this county and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack Favre. She leaves besides her daughter, a son, Joseph Favre, U. S. Army somewhere in Europe and a grandson Alcide Tanquiss, U. S. Navy who came from California for the funeral.

Mrs. Favre had undergone an operation and was doing nicely when she developed pneumonia which was ultimately the cause of her death. She was buried with the rites of the church of Latter Day Saints and interment was in Cedar Rest cemetery.

She was known for her kindness of heart and was always pleasant and smiling. The community of which she was such a vital part has lost one of its good citizens.

The family is extended sincere sympathy.

CARNIVAL BALL HELD SATURDAY EVENING MOST MAGNIFICENT YET STAGED

Dr. Marion J. Wolfe And Mrs. Louis Maumus Reign as King and Queen Respectively

Dr. Marion J. Wolfe and Mrs. Louis Maumus reigned as King and Queen on Saturday evening, over one of the most magnificent balls yet staged by the Bay St. Louis Carnival Association, with a court of 32 maids, 32 dukes and last year's King and Queen.

The curtain rose on a stage of so brilliant a setting that it dazzled the eye. Against a background of icebergs and snow covered shrubs, the luminous gleams from the Aurora Borealis were so realistic that the spectators imagined themselves in the far north viewing the Northern lights.

The maids were all attractive in lovely gowns of different shades and carried bouquets of spring flowers. They entered single file with slow and graceful step and were presented their dukes and took their places in a semi-circle at the foot of the stage. Next came last year's Queen, Mrs. M. A. Gilmore who amidst loud applause took her place on the stage where her King, Roger M. Boh, Sr., awaited her.

A hush fell over the audience as the Queen appeared, wearing an exquisite dress of white silk net over white taffeta, fashioned with a long train and trimmed with Rhinestones, sequins, pearls and ostrich plumes. The skirt was full with a deep ruffle topped with the sequins and ostrich feathers. Completing this costume was a garnet velvet mantle trimmed with silver jewels and sequins and deep bands of jeweled silver cloth. The mantle was finished with a Merici collar. The Queen held a jeweled sceptre, wore a crown studded with white jewels and carried an arm bouquet of red roses and orchids. Her train bearers were Walter J. Gex III and Edmund Alade Tanquiss. She ascended the stage with the grace and poise of a Royal lady and with the courtly air of the men of old England escorted her to the throne.

A brilliant pageant met the eyes of the large number in the grand stand as the grand march swung into step, and was greeted with a round of applause.

Following the march the first four dances were reserved for the court and then dancing was general.

At midnight the King entertained his court and a large number of friends at supper at Hotel Reed where light laughter and mirth held sway until the "Wee sma' hours." The supper was such as only Hotel Reed can serve.

As a whole the ball was voted par excellence and the Queen and maids rivaled in beauty and grace to say nothing of the men who wore their court dignity with an experienced air.

The maids and dukes were Mrs. Leo Ford and Dr. L. F. Maumus; Mrs. W. J. Gex and Commander Harold McPhee; Mrs. J. Richard Shadoin and Lt. John C. Oakland; Mrs. Alden Mauffray and Lt. Jules V. Bech; Mrs. H. L. Kergosien and John Green; Mrs. Clarence Holmes and Lt. Harry Baranger; Mrs. E. N. Spence and O. VanBuren; Mrs. Ben Hille and Alden Mauffray; Mrs. J. T. Prowell and Leo G. SURGICAL DRESSINGS

The discontinuance of the Surgical Dressings program has given rise to some misinformation on the subject. All volunteers should understand that the discontinuance was due solely to the fact that a sufficient quantity of dressings to meet all estimated demands for the next nine months has been provided through the efforts of Red Cross Volunteers. The commercial makers of surgical dressings have not assumed the responsibility of providing dressings formerly produced by volunteers. If and when the Army Medical Department requests an additional supply of dressings chapters will be called upon to resume the program, and notification will be given far enough in advance to permit necessary planning.

Wounded Bay St. Louis Captain Recovering in England

The 159th General Hospital, England—Wounded in the right thigh by shrapnel from an enemy artillery shell on the outskirts of Kinkkel, Belgium, Captain Carl T. Smith, Jr., 25, of 120 Ulman Avenue, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, is now recovering at this United States Army general hospital in England.

"His condition is excellent and he will soon return to duty," said his ward surgeon, Captain William L. Madden of Rochester, New York.

Commander of a field artillery unit Capt. Smith said his battalion was giving close support to units engaged in an attack. For several days there had been almost no resistance but suddenly the Germans laid down a heavy barrage.

Shells were falling all around and several fragments hit me in the leg," he said. "An enlisted man gave me first aid about 10 minutes later. I remained with my command about six hours, then returned to an aid station."

Capt. Smith, who has received the Purple Heart, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl T. Smith of the Ulman Avenue address. A brother, Ensign Mark Smith was killed three years ago, when he was lost off a destroyer in heavy seas in the Gulf of Mexico.

Central School P.-T. A. Met Tuesday Afternoon

The Central School P.-T. A. met on Tuesday afternoon at the school and with a somewhat crowded schedule of business to be disposed of.

Mrs. J. R. Shadoin was elected a delegate to represent the P.-T. A. at the three-day institute to be held in Jackson.

Mr. Ingram announced that there would be a double header basketball game at the school gymnasium on February 23 and the gate receipts and ticket sales would all go to the P.-T. A. There will be soft drinks and not dogs sold at the game.

A report was read from the Infantile Paralysis fund which showed that the Hancock county school children had donated the greatest amount of the $1,579.18 collected in the county. The amount collected from the schools was $361.89.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald gave a general history of the founding of P.-T. A. and the work that had been accomplished. The talk was in keeping with Founders Day which is always celebrated in February and was most interesting and informative and especially to those who are new in the work. Mr. McDonald had some interesting pictures to show which added to the splendid talk that she gave.

The prize for attendance was won by the second grade who have held the banner all of the year.

Dr. C. M. Shipp announced that the Government will appropriate $50 to the county provided the county will match this, for the treatment of any physical defects of school children. The P. T. A. has taken the matter of sponsoring this under consideration for action at a later meeting.

TAX COLLECTIONS

The first thirty-seven days of 1945 brought in, through the Tax Commission $3,063,635.46. Of this amount the sales tax produced $1,905,140.17. This being in excess of the 1944 collection by more than 270 thousand dollars. The tobacco tax accounted for $328,887.78, this being almost $20,000 under the 1944 collection. The beer, wine and malt tax brought in $176,784.60 compared to $141,660.35 in 1944. The severance tax on crude oil brought in $99,219.46 in the thirty-seven days.

S. S. PONTOTOC

The fine city of Pontotoc now has the distinction of having a victory ship named for it, one of three Mississippi towns honored. The ship, new type cargo vessel, was launched from the Fairfield Shipyard in Baltimore. Mrs. Virginia Mitchell Simmerman was selected to christen the ship and for that purpose people of Pontotoc sent her a bottle of water from a creek in the native county of Pontotoc, with the request that she use the water instead of the usual champagne. But as there is a superstition among sailors that nothing should be used in a ceremony that would dispense with the champagne Mrs. Simmerman smashed the bottle of champagne while Mrs. Thomas Abernethy broke the bottle of water on the ship as it was sliding into the water.

BUSINESS GOOD

The January issue of the Mississippi Business Review, issued monthly by Mississippi State College, says that business conditions in the state in December, 1944 ranked nine per cent better, as an average, than in December 1943. They have the state divided into districts with a report on each district. The Tupelo district is reported as making the highest average again in that month, setting a record of thirteen per cent increase over December 1943. Increases were noted in almost every line of business.

SCRAP PAPER

Every week, almost every day the WFB sends out a new call for scrap paper and stresses the demand for it. There is a vital shortage of paper and the collection of scrap can help materially to meet the shortage. So urgent is the need for collecting paper that Mr. McDowell has been holding public meetings and having "Scrap Paper Day" in many of the schools. Programs are presented, some of which Governor Bailey attends and he issues certificates of merit to students who collect a certain amount of paper. This shows how urgent is the need for scrap paper to be used in connection with war work in which more than seven thousand uses are found for paper.

EDITORS-NEWSPAPERS

Major Hodding Carter, former editor of the Democrat-Times of Greenville has won the Southern author's award, given by Southern Women's National Democratic Organization of New York, on his new book, "Wind of Fear"; Turner Catledge, native of Philadelphia, Mississippi, is now Assistant Managing Editor of the New York Times; Frank R. White has leased the Woodville Republican, Mississippi's oldest newspaper; Howland Suttie, well known newspaper man of Mississippi, now located in Washington, D. C., has been elected President of the National Press Club; The Holly Springs South Reporter has entered upon its eightieth year.

NEW OIL FIELDS

H. M. Morse, Supervisor, State Oil and Gas Board, with office on the first floor of the New Capitol, had an interesting article in the January issue of the Mississippi Supervisor, which gives much information on wells producing oil and dry holes as well. He points out that Coahoma, Benton, Quitman, Tunica, and Walthall are the only counties in the state where no drilling has ever been done. He says that in 1944 there were 201 wells drilled in the state with the following results: 113 oil wells, 9 gas distillate wells; three gas wells, 18 dry holes in the fields and 65 dry holes in wildcat territory. At the end of the year 31 active wells were being drilled and 35 wildcat wells. Mr. Morse thinks that more oil fields will be found in the state in the year 1945 and many new producers will be added in the fields already active.

HOME GUARD

Governor Bailey has given out a statement urging people to join the Home Guard just in case there should be an emergency. It will be recalled that the state formerly depended on the National Guard for all home needs, and the Guardsmen were often used in useful ways as guards and escorts. The National Guard, under supervision of the War Department, was called into service on the fighting fronts. In its place the Home Guard was organized, but it is not subject to the orders of the War Department. It is something that should have due and careful consideration.

RAKING AROUND

Col. San F. Parker, Commanding Officer of Foster General Hospital in Jackson, died in Kennedy General Hospital in Memphis on Tuesday of last week after a brief illness. Col. Parker, who came to Jackson in 1943, was a native of Kentucky and had served in the U. S. Army for twenty-seven years. A report from Washington says the WPB has ordered more civilian clothes made, mostly in the low-price brackets, with special attention to infants and children. COST OF WAR

As we enter our fourth year of participation in the War, with more and more sons, brothers, and fathers being taken from American homes to enter the service of their country and with battles growing more intense in every theatre of operation the staggering cost each day as we witness the mounting casualty lists and the exorbitant cost in money and material of this war.

And while we have reason to believe that the war with Germany at least will end sometime during the current year until victory is a known certainty we must plan our national budget on a long range plan. In this connection it is interesting to note that the President in his annual budget message to Congress has estimated that another 18 months of two-front warfare will send the national debt to a peak approaching $300,000,000,000. In the event that one or both of the wars end before that time, the debt, of course, will not be so large but will still be considerably more than the $232,000,000,000 now owed by the Federal Government. A national debt of this size, never imagined before the war, would be ten times the amount owed after the last World War and six times the sum owed on July 30, 1941, the last peace year. Our public debt at the end of the 1943 Fiscal Year and $27,000,000,000; in 1941 it had climbed to $49,000,000,000; and after four years of war it is estimated at some $300,000,000,000.

The normal cost of operating a country the size of the United States is no small item, and when we add to this the estimated direct war costs of $450,000,000,000—assuming that both wars continue into 1946—we can readily realize the permanent expense that this war will saddle on the American tax payers. Interest charges alone on our public debt will run to some $45,000,000,000 in the next budget year; payments to veterans of this war, which are just beginning, will cost some $3,000,000,000 yearly; while tax refunds to corporations on their excess-profits taxes and to individuals for over-withholding of personal income taxes will add another $2,725,000,000 to an already debt-burdened nation. The cost of carrying this debt will naturally be an obstacle to any plans to reduce taxes to prewar levels for sometime to come, while our expected postwar costs of national defense and normal government operations make it unlikely that there can be much, if any, increase in our already rather steep tax laws.

This unsavory picture is the cause of much concern to all Americans, and particularly those charged with balancing the economy of the nation.

HOSPITALIZATION OF SOLDIERS

In the past, the Army and Navy have been making every effort to place sick or wounded soldiers in hospitals nearest their homes where it would be convenient for relatives and friends to visit them. But since the number of casualties returning from battlefields has so greatly increased in recent weeks, it has been necessary for them to depart from this policy. In the more densely populated sections of the country many hospitals are already filled to capacity. Too, some of the patients need certain treatment which is not always available at the hospital nearest their homes.

Bay-Walton Garden Club Tea and Book Shower

The Bay-Walton Garden Club Tea and Book Shower brought a large crowd out on Thursday afternoon of last week and netted 200 books and 30 magazines all of which went to the American Merchant Marine Library Association at New Orleans.

The sun parlor of Hotel Reed, where the tea was given, was almost transformed into a spring garden so numerous were the bright colored flowers brought for exhibit and decoration by the club members.

The tea table, where Mrs. J. T. Prowell and Mrs. N. L. Carter poured Russian tea was covered with an exquisite lace cloth and centered with an elaborate holding bright colored Camellias, silver candelabra held tall lighted candles. Dainty sandwiches of various shapes were served with the tea.

The club felt duly repaid for the effort put forth in sponsoring this affair by the splendid work done by the different committees and especially grateful were they for the non members who rallied to the cause and helped to make this the success that it was. There was evident at all times the "Here Am I" spirit in preparing for the tea and it was indeed a great satisfaction to see all of the practically new books which were donated.

When it is known that the Garden Club is behind a movement to aid the service men it is almost an assured fact that it will be a success. Paraphrasing a little when duty whispers low "Thou Must" the Garden Club replies, "We Can."

It is hoped that many lonely hours at sea for the Marines will be brightened by the books sent to them from the people of Bay St. Louis.

The regular business meeting of the club was held prior to the tea and plans were discussed for the club's part in the War Fund Drive to be opened here on March 1.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY-MONDAY UNIVERSAL PRESENTS

Deanna Durbin's First Technicolor Picture "Can't Help Singing" with Robert Paige and Akim Tamiroff

Entertainment, spelled with large capital letters, comes to the Ortte Theatre Sunday and Monday with the opening of Deanna Durbin's latest film, Universal Technicolor production "Can't Help Singing." There are so many outstanding features about this film that it is difficult to decide in which order to list them. Deanna herself, photographed in Technicolor for the first time, is more alluring than ever. And never before has she been in such wonderful voice as she is singing the Jerome Kern tunes, written especially for this picture.

Seven Kern Tunes
Kern and E. Y. Harburg wrote seven songs for the production, every one of them an outstanding hit. They include "More and More," "Can't Help Singing," "Elbow Room," "Californian," "Any Moment Now," and "Swing Your Sweetheart 'Round the Fire."

The story, laid in 1849, opens in Washington, D. C. Deanna, in love with a young Army officer, played by David Bruce, sets out to follow him to the west coast. Enroute she meets Robert Paige, a gambler whom she engages to drive her covered wagon; she falls in love with him. There's a merry mixup when the three come together in Sonora, but it all comes out all right for Deanna in the end.

WEDDING AT SELLERS CLAIMS MUCH INTEREST

A wedding claiming general interest in Bay St. Louis and the entire county and New Orleans was that of Miss Faye Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Ladner and Carl Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Shaw both of Sellers, who were quietly married on Saturday, February 10 at the home of Father A. C. Denis, pastor of the Holy Catholic Church who performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride looked lovely in a soldier blue suit worn with Navy blue accessories and a shoulder corsage of white Carnations. She had as her only attendant Miss June Shaw, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a spring model of Aqua Crepe and shoulder corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom had as his only attendant Roland Ladner, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a large reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw parents of the bridegroom at Sellers.

The home was beautifully and artistically decorated with flowering quince and white Camellias on sprays of Maiden Hair fern and the lights were shaded with white wedding bells. The bride's table was covered with a Madiera cloth festooned with long sprays of the flowering quince and fern. It was centered with the four tiered wedding cake surrounded with the two-branched crystal candle sticks holding lighted white candles which was the only light used for the cutting of the cake.

Eight young girls pulled the eight ribbons which held the secret of who would be the next bride and the ring was pulled by Miss June Shaw.

Delicious refreshments were served throughout the evening and music for this occasion was furnished by the local string band.

The bride is a senior at Sellers high school and has been the star athlete on the school team for several years. The bridegroom is in business at Sellers with his father and the couple will reside there.

This is the culmination of a romance dating back to school days and their many friends are forecasting for them a long and happy life together when the rumbles of war have ceased.

Out-of-town guests were R. S. Gibbs, Mrs. Jack Duncan, Mrs. Betty Potthorst, Mrs. Herman Harrington, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moore Mrs. Harold Mitchell, Mrs. Paul Ladner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw of Pascagoula; Mrs. Chas. Sweeney and Mrs. Otho Ladner of Lumberton.

INTERESTING WEDDING TAKES PLACE IN NEW YORK

An interesting event recently was the marriage of Miss Lucy Weston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Weston and Mr. Paul Victor LaCoste, Ensign, United States Naval Reserve, son of Mrs. Emily LaCoste and the late Emile J. LaCoste.

The wedding took place on February 3 in New York City in the Chapel of the Little Church Around the Corner. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Randolph Ray, rector of the church before the Altar which was decorated with white flowers and aglow with candle light.

As the bridal chorus from Lohengrin was played the bride and groom entered the chapel and throughout the service various selections were rendered on the organ. The bride given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a gown of white net over satin made very simply and falling into a long train. The fitted bodice was shirred in basque effect and fashioned with a low round neck lined with a bertha of net, edged with rare old lace. The long, tight fitting sleeves, also shirred, came down in points over the hand. She wore an exquisite real lace veil in rose point over illusion which was held to her head in cap effect by a spray of Stephanotis.

The attendants on the bride were Miss Joyce Griffith of Danville, Va., as Maid of Honor, and Miss Ann Weston, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. They wore frocks of white starched chiffon embellished in yellow floral design, made with short puffed sleeves and bouffant skirts and carried old fashioned bouquets of Fuchsia and Parma violets with bandeaux of the same flowers in their hair.

The bridegroom's attendants were Ensign George Kraut of Wyoming and Ensign Carl Brodie of Minnesota, classmates of his at Midshipman school.

The bride is a graduate of Sullins College class of '43 and has been a social favorite here in the young set.

Ensign LaCoste attended Mississippi State for two years and completed his college course in the V-12 unit at University of Louisville. He received his commission early in January at Camp Endicot, Rhode Island, and is now stationed in New York where they will reside for the present.

A. & G. THEATRE THURS. AND FRIDAY TUNE-SWEPT "BRAZIL"

Picture Sparkles with Merri-ment and Romance

"Brazil" is a picture with the sparkling gaiety of the great South American capital for which it is titled—vibrant with music by the celebrated Ary Barroso's swept by the romance of Tito Guizar and blonde Virginia Bruce—scintillating with the spectacular dancing of Veloz and Yolanda.

Rich, believable humor that will produce belly laughs of Inter-American hilarity is introduced by Robert Livingston, Edward Everett Horton, Frank Puglia, Fortunio Bonanova, Richard Lane and others.

"Brazil" will be at the A. & G. Theatre Thursday and Friday, February 22-23.

The story was inspired by Ary Barroso's two-continent song hit, "Brazil," which is played as accompaniment for the brilliant dancing of Veloz and Yolanda.

The lyrics by Ned Washington, are sung by Tito Guizar, world famous tenor, who accompanies himself on his exquisite guitar.

By and large, "Brazil" is a film which brings family appeal to the theatre. Bright music, delightful dancing, with comedy and romance of top calibre, combine to produce the sort of entertainment for which young and old are eager.
